Candidates' Night

The Mattapoisett Woman's Club and the Mattapoisett Lions Club cordially invite the voters of Mattapoisett to attend a "Meet the Candidates" night on Sunday, September 9th, at 8:00 P.M. in the Congregational Church parish hall.

All the candidates for the office of Selectman, left vacant by the resignation of Mr. John Field, will be the guests. They will present to you their ideas of what they would like to do for our town and answer your questions. These candidates are, in alphabetical order: Mr. Peter P. Briggs, Mr. George Correa, Mr. John A. Langlois, Mr. Robert A. Silveira and Mr. Russell F. Tinkham. Mr. William Blasdale has kindly consented to act as moderator. In addition, Mr. George Hall, Executive Secretary to the Board of Selectmen, will present briefly the articles to be voted upon in the Special Town Meeting and answer any questions you may have.

Mattapoisett Town News

The encephalitis epidemic has moved State and County to proceed with wide-scale aerial spray over this area. Mattapoisett was sprayed on Thursday and Friday morning by tree top flying DC 3 which, together with a helicopter, is performing the spraying operation.

The Massachusetts Board of Public Health has issued the following directive regarding dead pheasants and sparrows found in the town:

"Isolation of epidemic equine encephalitis virus in the bird population is critical in identifying communities with risk of infection. Boards of Health are advised to obtain equipment such as an ice bucket and have available dry ice which will enable them to transport newly dead birds to the virus laboratory, Room 705, 600 Washington Street, Boston. Specimens must be fresh and Boards of Health should be prepared to convey specimens 24 hours per day. Further advising will be issued."

The Mattapoisett Mosquito Control Commission met with the Board of Selectmen on Tuesday this past week to discuss various aspects of the mosquito control program as carried out

LUMBER YARD COMPLEX PROJECTED

A plan has been sent to the Mattapoisett Board of Selectmen for a projected lumber yard and store to be located on the former Sippican-Burnham property. The plan outlines a 5-acre lot containing a blacktopped parking area with a 34,000 foot building for lumber, a 4,800 foot shed and a retail store of 5,600 feet. The entrance to the property will be from Route 6 opposite the junction of Church Street and Route 6. Representatives of Mid-Cape Center, Inc. have asked to meet informally with Selectmen on September 4th to discuss their plans.

SELECTMEN OPPOSE STATE BUILDING CODE

Mattapoisett Selectmen have written on August 28th to Mr. Don Stull, chairman of the State Building Code Commission, to oppose a projected imposition of a State Building Code which would be imposed on all cities and towns. The Selectmen wrote: "The Town of Mattapoisett is strongly opposed to the adoption of a state building code as outlined in your letter. We are most satisfied with our local building regulations and procedures and see no reason at this time for the state to infringe on our rights to establish and administer such regulations. Every indication is that the major benefactors of such a state code would be the out-of-town building trades, architects, and engineers. In fact, the Commission

"We specifically do not want our Building Inspector to be placed under civil service, and we do not want the state to dictate his salary.

"This entire proposal appears to be ill conceived, designed to be one more case of infringement on home rule and another outstanding example of the state imposing expenses on the towns and cities without their consent. Also, to add insult to injury, as proposed, the state will set the fees that the town will have to live with even though such fees might not be high enough to pay the inspector's state-set salary.

"In view of the above, the Town of Mattapoisett's Board of Selectmen urge the State Building Code Commission and the appropriate state officials to disapprove the Commission's proposals. If for the purpose of coordinating the rules, regu-

However, we are most opposed to the state usurping our rights under home rule and assume control over one of our most important local controls that serve to shape the destiny and character of our town.

IN PERSON OR ABSENTEE

Editorial, D.C.J.

The recent shock many homeowners experienced as they opened their property tax bill is the direct result of the appropriation of money at Town Meeting sessions.

No money is spent unless the taxpayer authorizes it (except for increasingly frequent dictates from the Massachusetts legislature which threaten the structure of town government through its financially irresponsible trend). The homeowner who does not attend the Town Meeting votes as surely as if he or she had. Each voter who abstains by being absent increases the influence of his opponent who is present by double. Only those who don't care how they spend their money can afford to stay home. No relief is coming to the property taxpayer except that which the individual himself provides. The excesses, the irresponsibility, the mounting deficits of every level of our government are in direct proportion to the apathy of the citizen. Elected officials are responsive to public influence. Public influence is strongest in the direct vote of each individual.

The Special Election and Town Meeting now scheduled for Mattapoisett is important and will have an impact on every property owner. Each homeowner will receive the bill but only those voters who are physically present and voting will actually decide whether or not to order the merchandise and in the case of the election for Selectmen to choose the best leadership.

they approached with flashlight and caution the creature curiously curled up limply with eyes open and teeth shining as if to be dead. Wally, "Hound Supreme", apparently wanted the critter to move and picked it up in his mouth tossing it from side to side sensing its limpness was but a phony act.

Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Meaney added to the now growing throng of onlookers.

Mr. Willis Brown, another neighbor, through his transister W3HB portable, radioed Donald Brown, his son operating WIJSM in Portsmouth, New Hampshire and verified through Don's encyclopedia that the creature was surely an opossum.

Being primarily a southern animal the opossum is known to come occasionally as far north as Southern New Hampshire but the likelihood is slim.

Cameraman Lars E. Stone, with lighting director Cindy Stone and inspirational assistant Sandy Stone, snapped several photos while Mr. Opossum feigned death.

The following morning the creature had disappeared into the woods probably chuckling to himself how once more he had outwitted danger.

Major attention is being given to nutrition, or good eating habits. There will be actual demonstrations on how to prepare low cost main dishes, how to prepare meals with meat alternates, and how to prepare donated foods. Special menus and recipes will be handed out, and information on special diets will also be available.

Representatives from Social Security, Blue Cross and other agencies will be there to answer any questions you may have about how they can help you.

The New Bedford Council on Aging will be on hand to take photographs of anyone who wishes a photo/ID card. They will also be there to let you know what the Councils on Aging can do for you, with offices throughout Greater New Bedford.

There will be an entire section of the Fair devoted to medical screening, where you may have your eyes checked, your mouth and teeth checked, and where you may be checked for diabetes by a simple prick of the finger. All of these services will be conducted by physicians, dentists and nurses and are completely voluntary. There is no charge for these services, and there will

The event will take place on September 15 and 16, Saturday and Sunday, between 10:00 A.M. and 4:00 P.M. at the New Bedford High School Gym. NOTICE TO SUMMER READERS

We regret that we are forced to start at once to discontinue delivery to summer areas in order to conserve our supply of paper. The critical shortage in the supply of paper is now dependent on the settlement of the Canadian Rail strike. When paper is again available to us, we will continue normal delivery to those who remain at the beaches until late in the year.

Studds Answers Queries

The following answers were written by Representative Gerry E. Studds in answer to questions put to him by Mattapoisett Selectmen when he visited the town. We print these questions and answers in part and will complete them in a following issue.

"Dear Sirs:

"Some time ago, I had the opportunity to meet with Mr. Donald Linhares and other citizens of Mattapoisett to discuss federal, state, and local problems. A list of seven written questions was given to me at that time and four oral inquiries were added at the request of those in attendance.

"Since that time I have attempted to answer each query on an item-by-item basis. These answers are enclosed for your use.

"I hope you will call upon me for any as-

OUESTIONS AND ANSWERS

"Question: In the not too distant future, the Town of Mattapoisett will have to construct a multi-million dollar sewage disposal system. What are the chances and how do we go about obtaining federal matching funds for this purpose?

"Answer: The Environmental Protection Agency is the only agency that provides grants for sewage disposal systems. Under E.P.A. procedures, all localities in the Commonwealth must apply through the Water Resources Commission, 100 Cambridge Street, Boston (727-3855). According to Mr. Richard Greeley, FY 1974 funds would very likely be made available to Mattapoisett for 75 to 90 percent reimbursement for linking into the recently constructed Fairhaven sewage treatment facility. He indicated that town officials should "Question: The pressure is constantly on towns like Mattapoisett to construct more and more low cost housing. With each such house the other taxpayers have to subsidize the schooling of its children to the tune of about $2,000. Such houses pay only about $300 of the school costs which amount to upwards of $2,000 for a two child family.

"Answer: As long as we continue to fund education almost wholly through local property taxes, towns will have to subsidize the education of new citizens who do not own property. The present property tax system is doubly unfair to the school children because of the arbitrary differences in education funding between towns.

"I believe a system where federal, state and local governments equally share the costs of educating our children, while preserving local control, would provide the relief that the homeowners in Mattapoisett and other towns need. H.R. 7237, which I am co-sponsoring would provide funds to the states as a first step in more fairly distributing the burden of school financing. My staff now is studying how best to draft legislation to reform completely the present unfair property tax system.

"Question: As you have probably noticed, our own harbor is completely exposed to the strong southeast storm winds. The Corps of Engineers has just advised us that they could not undertake a proposed three million dollar program to provide protection by building breakwaters. Is it possible that you could do something about this?

"Answer: According to the Corps of Engineers, construction of a breakwater at Mattapoisett would serve mainly to protect recreational craft. As the town rejected the 50 - 50 matching fund formula involved in projects benefiting substantially non-commercial entities, the New England Division of the Corps forwarded an unfavorable report to the Chief Engineer in Washington. The only way now to gain the 100 percent funding is to appeal to the Corps national office and show substantial benefits to commercial enterprises if the breakwater were built. To do this, the town would have to disprove the Corps' research, conducted in collaboration with the U.S. and Massachusetts' Divisions of Wildlife and Fisheries. Should you decide to appeal on these grounds, please keep me informed and I will do all I can to see that the matter receives full consideration by the Corps.

"Question: The town needs some help in lowering some of the requirements for construction of homes in the flood prone areas under the HUD Flood Insurance Program. Can anything be done about this?

"Answer: Mr. Hall raised two specific problems involved, the town's request for an extension of the compliance time involved in the National Flood Insurance Program and the 14.4 feet above sea level construction requirement.

"As of August 18, the Federal Insurance Administration had received the Board's letter explaining the situation with a special town meeting and asking for an extension of the compliance time. They had not yet made any decision on the matter, but said that they would contact you by telephone as soon as they do. If they have not yet called you, I can check with them for you.

"The F.I.A was more adamant about the 14.4 feet above sea level construction requirement. Assuming the hundred year flood is calculated correctly, the only way a town can gain an exemption is by showing that it is a unique case. This has been done by a town only once in the history of the program, and that for Fairbanks, Alaska, where high construction costs, lack of building materials, and climatic conditions came into play.

"Question: The biggest single problem in this as well as other communities is the ever increasing tax rate primarily caused by rising school costs. Is there any federal program in the works to help communities with this major problem?

"Answer: At present, there is no direct federal tax aid to communities to cover sky-rocketing education costs, though the federal government does offer a wide variety of categorical grants through the Office of Education, for which Mattapoisett might be eligible. Education revenue sharing as an alternative to categorical grant programs seems unlikely in the near future. Further, I doubt that the presently proposed formula for education revenue sharing would provide for any significant funding for communities with the tax level and student population of Mattapoisett. What is needed, instead, is a more thorough restructuring of the way education is funded in America, including the kind of property tax relief I mentioned above.

"Question: The town has tentative plans for expanding its water system to additional parts of town at a cost of about $350,000. Will federal funds be available for matching purposes?

"Answer: In January, the Nixon Administration impounded all funds for the grant and loan programs for water systems under the Department of Housing and Urban Development and subsequently terminated these programs even though Congress had appropriated funds to continue them. While the Administration has likewise ended similar grant programs under the Farmers Home Administration (FHA), the FHA is continuing to make five percent loans of a maximum 40 year term for the expansion of water systems in towns of less than 10,000 population. You can contact the FHA county supervisor, Mr. James R. King, G & B Building, Raynham, Massachusetts at 822-7141 for further information.

"Question: What is being done about the fishing industry as far as more control over foreign fleets and interference with our lobster fishermen?

"Answer: The most crucial challenge faced by the New England commercial fishing industry is depletion of fish caused by the unregulated and irresponsible fishing practices of foreign vessels off our coast. On June 13th, I introduced a bill to extend United States fisheries jurisdiction to 200 miles from our shore and to cover anadramous species. This bill, H.R. 8665, is designed as an interim measure pending international agreement of the Law of the Sea Conference on expanded fisheries jurisdiction and now has 35 co-sponsors in the House.
